

River gorge

The sandstone cliffs at the Czech and German border are frequently visited for their wild, romantic beauty. One of the area's most charming spots is the rocky Kamenice River gorge.

Currently, Wild Gorge (Divoká soutěska) is open to visitors. Take the footpath from Mezní můstek. Boats take visitors between the sheer rock faces past overhangs and tunnels while the ferryman tells stories and points out passing rock formations. The ride (about 15 minutes) makes for a memorable experience.

Riverboats and rafting

TIPS FOR VISITORS

DĚČÍN IS DIVINE

Boat trips on the river

No visit to Děčín is complete until you hit the river. Make yourself comfortable on deck with a cup of coffee and watch the Elbe canyon slide past. A relaxing cruise, fantastic views of landmarks in Bohemian and Saxon Switzerland, and an unforgettable backdrop make for great memories. Boat trips can be combined with a hike or bike ride to explore the area further. There's a cycling trail on the riverbank and you can check your bikes on board.

Private craft can be docked just downstream of the bridge

Riverboats

Riverboat operator Labská plavební společnost offers cruises from Děčín and Ústí nad Labem to Hřensko, Bad Schandau, and Dresden. Cruises run to Meissen, the Saxon spa town of Kurort Rathen, and Pillnitz castle and there is regular service on the route Ústí–Děčín–Hřensko. Riverboats can be chartered for private parties.

Canoes, rafts, and paddleboards

Take the helm of a trim little boat with your very own crew. Boat rentals offer fun and adventure on canoes, rafts, and paddleboards. Head out on the gorgeous Elbe canyon, let the current take you away, wave as you pass the statue of Saint Adalbert, and enjoy a great view of the sandstone cliffs. This gentle stretch of river is suitable for landlubbers and families alike, and large rafts can carry groups. Go it alone or take a guide. And if the boat ride is not enough for you, your bikes or in-lines can be sent ahead to meet you for the trip back.

Choose from popular riverside destinations like Dolní Žleb, Hřensko, Schmilka, and Bad Schandau.

When the conditions are right, you can explore the lively Ploučnice River or host a company teambuilder or school trip on the Elbe.

Dolní Žleb ferry

Bohemia's largest port

The country's largest dockyard, located at Loubí, has lent its unique atmosphere to numerous Czech film and television productions – Sny o Zambezi (1982), Chobotnice z II. patra (1986), Cirkus Bukowsky (2013). Its giant cranes and freight barges stand in contrast to the wilderness crowding the river. Loubí is the home dock of the sternwheeler Beskydy, the last boat of its kind still plying the Elbe, which is occasionally open for tours.
